

Remain seated on the heartthrone, and do not become a warrior.

Today, the Father, the Foreigner from the faraway land has come to meet His children. He has come to remind you children of your original home. He has also come to make you powerful and take you back home with Him. Do you now remember your original home? This land is foreign^{3/4} it is a foreign kingdom in which everything you see is old. Everything within it is old. Whether you look at people or things, what can you see? Everything has reached a state of total decay. There is darkness everywhere. Whilst living in such a land, all of your souls have become placed in bondage. It is only now that the Father comes and reminds you of your original form and your original home. It is only now that He frees you from bondage and takes you back home. As well as this, He also makes each of you the master of yourself. So, are all of you children ready to go back to your original home? You are not those who simply say, "We will go there, we will go there". In the play you created everyone said that they wanted to go to heaven, but scarcely a few were ready to go there. You are not like them, are you? Have you settled all your karmic accounts or do some still remain? Have you celebrated the completion ceremony of finishing your karmic accounts or are you still making preparations to do that? You don't think that you will celebrate that ceremony at the end, do you? Only if you celebrate the completion ceremony now would you be able to celebrate the perfection ceremony at the end. All of your old karmic accounts have to be settled. By doing this now, you will be able to attain the status of being free from bondage for a long time, and also liberated in life for a long time. Otherwise, you will remain a battling warrior till the end. What would the reward be of someone who leads a life of battling till the end? A warrior life is a childhood life. Each of you has now become the master of yourself. You have been given your tilak of awareness and been seated on the heartthrone of the Father. Can those who are seated on this heartthrone be warriors? You have been given your throne and crown which is the reward of the battle. Have you not yet taken your present reward and instant fruit? Have you attained the reward of the confluence age or do you still have to attain it? What is the song you sing? Is it, "I have attained everything that I wanted"? Or, is it, "I have yet to attain everything"? Since the present is connected to the future, and your future reward is to last 2,500 years, is the present reward going to last for 5 or 6 months, or for 5 days or 5 hours or for the duration of the confluence age? If the reward of the confluence age is not going to last for a long time, how would your future reward last for a long time? Since it is to last for 2,500 years there, would your reward here not be for at least 25 years? If, having become the direct children of the Father, you do not receive your inheritance of the present time for the full length of the confluence age, then what have you attained? Having become a child of the One who is the Master of the mines of all treasures, if you do not become full of all those treasures, then since becoming child, what have you been doing?

"Success is our birthright." If you say this and yet do not experience constant success, then what have you been doing since you claimed your birthright? If, having become a child of the two fathers who are the bestowers of fortune, you haven't become one who is multimillion times fortunate, then what have you been doing since you became a child of both fathers? Baba, the Bestower of Blessings, has shown you an extremely easy method of performing elevated actions and having divine and elevated behaviour. However, if you still haven't become an embodiment of success, then what have you been doing?

Is it that you like to battle, labour and do everything slowly and comfortably at your own pace? Do you like being on a battlefield? Do you not like the heartthrone? If you do like this throne, then remember that Maya can't come to anyone seated on the heartthrone. It is when you get off that throne and go onto the battlefield that you have to labour. Some children aren't able to stay without fighting and battling. If they don't find anyone else to fight, they have a tugof war with themselves. The sanskars of battling make them leave the throne and go onto the battlefield. Finish your sanskars of battling now! Imbibe the sanskars of ruling. Become one who has received the reward! Only then will you be able to become one who receives the reward of the future for a long time. What would you become if you have a warriorlife till the end? You would then have to become part of the moon dynasty.

The sign of a sundynasty soul is that that soul will be constantly dancing in happiness. He will constantly be swinging in the swing of supersensuous joy. Rama of the moon dynasty is never shown swinging in a swing. Nor is he ever shown performing a dance. He is only shown with that bow and arrow, which is a symbol of battling. Therefore, he receives the fortune of the kingdom later on. The kingdom of only half the period is not said to be for a long period of time. Therefore, constantly swing in this swing. Whilst remaining in harmony with everyone, constantly continue to dance in happiness. This is known as being an embodiment of the reward of the confluence age. How much longer are you going to continue to say that you are an effortmaker? You make effort now and receive the reward now! It is not that you make effort at the confluence age and only receive the reward in the golden age. You have to become one who receives the reward of the confluence age. Sow the seed now and eat the fruit of that now. Since scientists are able to increase the speed of their achievements, so you with your power of silence, should also increase your speed even more, should you not? Or, is it that you are going to do everything in one birth and receive the reward of that in your next birth? Those people try to go faster than the speed of sound. They want to do everything in less than a second. They are ready to destroy the whole world in such a short time! So, would you souls, who are instruments for the establishment, not experience doing something in a second and receive the reward of that in a second? Do you understand what you have to do? Eat the instant fruit! Do you not like instant fruit? Is it that you only like to eat fruit for which you have laboured? It is because you have been eating the dried fruit of your labour that you became so weak, blind, with no intellect (wisdom) and unable to perform elevated actions. Now, at least eat fresh, instant fruit. Change labour into love. Achcha.

To those who always have the sanskars of royalty^{3/4} to those who have a right to all treasures, which means those who are children and masters^{3/4} to those who constantly have the sanskars of experiencing the reward of the confluence age and who eat the instant fruit^{3/4} to those who are constant embodiments of attainment, who are constantly free from all bondage and living a life of liberation in the confluence age^{3/4} to the children who remain seated on the throne and wear their crown, BapDada's love, remembrance and namaste.

BapDada meeting groups:

1. Do you constantly remain stable in spiritual intoxication? To have spiritual intoxication means to be soul conscious. Constantly to see the soul whilst you are moving and walking along means to have spiritual intoxication. When you have spiritual intoxication, you are easily able to experience all attainments. Those who have physical intoxication consider themselves to have attained everything. Similarly, those who maintain spiritual intoxication also become embodiments of all attainments. When you remain in this intoxication, all types of sorrow are removed. By doing this, you bid farewell to sorrow and peacelessness. Since you have become the children of the Bestower of Happiness and Peace for all time, it means you have bidden farewell to sorrow and peacelessness, does it not? In that case, there should be no name or trace of peacelessness. How could the children of the Ocean of Peace become peaceless? To have spiritual intoxication means to have ended sorrow and peacelessness. Have you celebrated the farewell ceremony of this? It is only through impurity that sorrow and peacelessness are created. If there is no impurity, how could there be sorrow or peacelessness? You have become master purifiers, children of the Purifier. Those who purify the impure would, themselves, be pure, would they not? Pure souls naturally have peace and happiness within them. Therefore, you are pure souls, elevated souls, special souls. You are great souls of the world because you now belong to the Father. The greatest thing of all is to become pure. This is why people bow their heads, even today, in front of this greatness. In whose memory are those nonliving idols created? What would you think now when you go to the temples? Who is being worshipped? You have become aware that those nonliving idols are of you. Therefore, continue to move along whilst considering yourselves to be such great souls! Become those with such a divine mirror that all souls are able to see the reflection of their own original character.

2. Do you constantly experience the stage of ascent? You should experience your stage ascending at every second. Your stage should be ascending in your thoughts, words, actions, connections and relationships, because this is now the time to ascend. No other age is the age of ascent. Only the confluence age is the age of ascent. Therefore, you should experience everything according to the time. The second after the second that just passed should also be of your stage ascending. You are not those who come to a standstill because of anything. Those whose stage is ascending never come to a halt and they also make others ascend with them.

3. Do you consider yourselves to be flying birds? Those who are flying birds would be rulers of the globe. They would have an allround part. Those who are in the flying stage would be completely free from bondage and thus be able to reach wherever there is a need for service. They would become embodiments of success in all the types of service they perform. The Father has an allround part. He can become the Friend as well as the Father. In the same way, those who are in the flying stage should be able to play the full part of any type of service, wherever there is a need. This is known as being an allround flying bird. Achcha.

BapDada meeting kumaris:

BapDada is very pleased to see kumaris. Why? Because each kumari can become an instrument to awaken many others. Therefore, Baba is pleased to see the future of the kumaris. Each one of you kumaris will become a world benefactor. You will not just be one who benefits the family, but one who benefits the world! When a kumari becomes a householder, she becomes one who simply benefits her family. However, when she becomes a Brahma Kumari, she becomes a world benefactor. So, what are you going to become? Even now, in this final time of bhakti, kumaris are still worshipped. Therefore, you are elevated even till the end. Great importance is given to the life of a kumari. You kumaris are given a lift in your Brahmin life. Kumaris are able to become in charge of a centre very quickly. It is only after a long time that kumars receive such a chance. When kumaris race ahead, they are able to progress a great deal by themselves. One kumari can look after many centres. According to the drama, you receive this lift as a gift. You have not had to work for it. What is the speciality of kumaris? A kumari life means to lead a life of perfection. If you do not have this speciality in your kumari life, then no importance is given to you. To be a Brahma Kumari means that there should not even be an impure thought in your mind. Only then would you become worthy of being worshipped. Otherwise, you become like a damaged idol, and such idols would never be worshipped. So, do you understand this speciality?

If all of you kumaris were to become servers, very many centres could be opened. BapDada isn't telling you to leave your worldly jobs, but there should be balance. When you become busier in this service, then that one will automatically stop. If someone is told to leave her worldly job, she begins to think about it. When those who have no knowledge are told to stop smoking, they are unable to become free from that habit by simply being told to stop it. However, when they are given an experience, they become able to stop. In the same way, when you become busy doing this service, your other work will automatically stop. As yet, those in Gujarat haven't been given a centre as a dowry, like those in Bombay have. Those in Gujarat are able to do whatever they want. There is nothing lacking there. It's just that this thought and system hasn't yet started there. All you kumaris are the lamp of BapDada's clan, are you not? By constantly remembering your fortune you will remain cheerful. You now belong to the Father. In this life (kumari life) you can either fall or become elevated. Therefore, all of you have reached the path of ascent. Achcha.

Blessing: May you become those who uplift others, and like Father Brahma, create your most elevated portrait of all.

All of you children have created your portrait of fortune through your elevated awareness and elevated actions. Just the final touching needs to be added to make the portrait perfect and become the most elevated of all, like Father Brahma. In order to do this, become one who uplifts even those who defame you, and constantly remain free from any selfish motive. The more altruistic you are in any situation and task and remain cooperative in any gathering, the more you will be able to uplift even those who defame you.

Slogan: Souls who take responsibility claim the right to receiving extra blessings.
